

CONTENTS

VOLUME VII(2018)

Introduction

The Editors 1

Part I : On Philippe Lejeune, the Scholar

The Exquisite Ironies of Philippe Lejeune: Nine Auto-Anti-Theses

Julia Watson 9

Philippe Lejeune Turns Eighty

John Eakin 19

Le Pacte Philippe

Alfred Hornung 25

For Philippe Lejeune

Craig Howes 32

Philippe Lejeune and the Spirit of May 1968

Jeremy D. Popkin 39

Enthusiasm, Curiosity and Creative Approaches: In Recognition of Philippe Lejeune's Research

Christa Hämmerle 45

Part II : On Philippe Lejeune's Work

The Autobiographical Pact, Forty-Five Years Later

Carole Allamand 51

About the Contractual Nature of the Autobiographical Pact

Zoltán Z. Varga 57

Un Esprit Démocratique: les dérives de Lejeune, chiffonnier et collectionneur des autobiographies

T. G. Ashplant 66

Philippe Lejeune: An American(ist)’s Appreciation
G. Thomas Couser	79
The Hidden Genre: Diaries and Time
Julie Rak	85
Jacques Presser, Egodocuments and the Personal Turn in Historiography
Arianne Baggerman and Rudolf Dekker	90

Part III : A Tribute to Philippe Lejeune

Economies of the Gift: Michel Leiris’s “Vois! Déjà l’ange ...” and Sociological Theories of the Circulation and Expenditure of Goods
Regine Strätling	111
“Cheerful Angels Looking Down on Us”: Parental Emotions in Diaries about the Illness and Death of Infants and Young Children (1780–1880)
Leonieke Vermeer	133
Coping with Horror, Writing with Humour: A Hungarian Teenager’s Diary of Her Family’s 1951 Deportation to the Countryside
Gergely Kunt	151
Suffering and Writing: Autotherapeutic Functions of Some Polish Writers’ Personal Diaries
Pawel Rodak	161
Impossible Autobiography: For Phillippe Lejeune
Lisa Ortiz-Vilarelle	170
The Diary of a Disaster: Behrouz Boochani’s ‘asylum in space’
Gillian Whitlock	176
Dear Diary, Dear Comrade: The Diaries of Setske de Haan, Joop ter Heul and Anne Frank
Monica Soeting	183
Dining with Philippe Lejeune: Just Desserts
Clare Brant	200